Integrating Refinery with Petrochemicals - Unlocking the Petrochemical Value Chain

Mr. Jose de Barros
Director Olefins Technology
CB&I

Synopsis

The integration of petrochemicals and refinery bring operating cost benefits for both but particularly to the refinery. The largest global petrochemical market segment is ethylene and propylene and their derivatives. Competitive position is affected strongly by the feedstock cost. The presentation outlines the economic advantages of the integration of refinery and petrochemicals and how to incorporate these into the planning for a joint facility.
